TUESDAY, APRIL 9, 1907.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Sunday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

4,520

If this be sugar snow, bring on the sugar.

It's the early bird that gets the snow-storm.

This being the month when the Methusalehs assemble ought to be a good month.

Evidences continue to multiply that E. H. Harriman is far from being a saint himself.

Congressman "Kite" Hawkins has borrowed one year of time already, having been born 75 years ago yesterday.

From the Carnegie has given $20,000,000 to Pittsburg, he can't thereby add to those 25 honest men there imprisoned.

Boston has been introduced to her first strike-breaker, and was quite considerate regarding her usual coldness to strangers.

President Roosevelt ought to save some of his ammunition for the national shooting tournament at Charlestown, which comes soon.

If ex-Governor Swettenham of Jamaica gets us here as Canada, he ought surely to come down as far as Vermont and let us see his days.

Those Richmond robbers wanted to do the thing up brown, anyway, so they dynamited a safe which was not locked. They must have been amateurs at the game.

Men, here is another reason why house-cleaning should be abolished: an Indiana woman has lost her life through poisoning received while cleaning the wallpaper in her home.

With the state fair White River Junction will be able to refute that Boston man who declared there was nothing to the town but a hotel, one or two stores and a few houses.

Why is it that preachers are so poorly paid? In the neighboring state of New Hampshire there is a movement on foot to make $500 as a minimum annual stipend, and this can only be done by uniting the warring denominations in some of the smaller towns, just as has been done in some Vermont communities. There are nineteen New Hampshire churches whose rase less than $200 for church support. Imagine the size of the "salary" which the pastor must get out of this pitiful amount.

In the minds of the jury of the general public, Evelyn's testimony drops 90 per cent in their estimate following the announcement that Mrs. William Thaw promised before the trial to settle a quarter of a million on her. That's mere meanness, if there ever was anything which could be called by that name. Even the announcement that the promise was activated by the agreement of the girl to "settle down" does not remove the bad taste which the original announcement gave. Mrs. Thaw, etc., is bidding high for the life of her boy.

CONGRATULATIONS TO HARDWICK.

Congratulations to Hardwick on a settlement of its labor difficulty and the prospective complete resumption of work in all branches of the granite industry. The awakening after six and a half weeks of idleness will be the most gratifying thing that has happened to that community for a long time, in fact, since the coming of the Woodbury company, recognized as one of the greatest building firms of the country. The paralyzing effect of such a suspension is appreciated wherever there are any industries of size such as this one in Hardwick. The busy village will again resume its march of progress.

GEORGE GREENVILLE BENEDICT.

Death claimed George Greenville Benedict, editor-in-chief of the Burlington Free Press, in the evening of life, after he had withdrawn largely from the field of active endeavor to enjoy the fruits of a useful career. Not long ago he observed the fiftieth anniversary of his entry into journalism, on which occasion he received the congratulations and well-wishes of a host of friends within and without his life profession. All these years were spent in building up the paper, with which he was connected at the time of his death, which occurred yesterday. During the more recent years he had laid down his pen except for occasional returns to add to the historical lore of the state and nation, retaining, however, his position at the head of the Free Press. His work in the press and in other public print has been invaluable, as indeed were his services to the nation in the time of its great need forty odd years ago. But overlapping all this is the worth of his example as a citizen that is especially prized today. George Greenville Benedict will be sincerely mourned.

You'll never know where you're at this changable month unless you have a light weight Rain Coat. Do it now or the showers will do you.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Contrariness of Life.
Admission bred his youthful soul
To impulsive acts, like
Alice Daniel Webster, Henry Clay
And others to erratic.
But, though his efforts to that and
Were diligently put,
Despite his study in the class
He landed at the foot.
In other channels than he sought
A way to his removal
And tried to turn a somersault
Just like the others down.
But, though he practiced long and Hard,
The aim was balked instead.
And every time he tried the trick
He landed on his head.

Montgomery Wilson in New York Sun.

Close Quarters.
And have you but one doll, Little girl?"
"Yes, I am, it has to be a small one.
We live in a flat!"—St. Louis Rep.
profile.

What Happened to Sam.
There was a young fellow called Sam,
Who closed the door with a slam.
His mother said, "Dear me!
And his father, he only said, "Remainder."
—Boston Transcript.

Superior Article.
Agent—I am introducing a new part burglar alarm.

Homer—Don't need it. We have a home in the house.—San Francisco Examiner.

My, My!
There once was a lady named Smythe,
Who married a man for his coat.
But the man ran away.
With a "brother" one day—
Won't somebody please beat the carpet
—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Feminine Wiles.
Stella—I always get to the theater
last, so as not to be talked about.
Bella—And I always get to the club
first, so as not to be talked about.

Winter Wear.
The overcoat that in the fall
Received such a heavy thing
Has worn itself so very thin
It's just the weight for sailing.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Back Talk.
No, I wouldn't join that club. It's too full of stupid idiots."

"You're mistaken. There's always room for one more!"—Pick-Me-Up.

Way of a Woman.
Time tries to age a woman fair,
But she destroys the trace,
For Time she doesn't seem to care,
But at him makes a face.
—Chicago News.

Belief.
"Do you believe in luck?"
"Yes," answered young Mrs. Terkina.
"It's something that the other man always has!"—Washington Star.

One Thing in Common.
They say the baby looks like me,"
said the grandmother.
"The only difference I see
is that we're both bald-headed."
—Philadelphia Press.

Up to Date.
"Sing a song of sixpence"—what's the rest of it?"
"A pocket full of tainted money,"—Baltimore American.

BEST BREAD AND PASTRY FLOURS

If the bread and cakes are poor many will blame the oven, many will blame the cook. All the time it's apt to be the Flour. Give a carpenter rusty nails, dull saws, nicked chisels. Ask him for good work. It's just as absurd to expect good work of a cook if she has poor Flour. Give her Henkle's Bread and Pastry Flours and her bread and cakes will always please.
